

And not someones house. Fungi can grow in houses only if the spores on the fungi can spread far enough. Fungi is found in damp places where there are rotting logs and mouldy things.

Fungis job is to help other animals get their food and help plants grow by breaking down dead plants and animals to make soil for the plants to grow. Fungi also makes the soil healthy for new plants to grow.

