

Yvette Anne Mary Cross

Gully because it is dark, damp and cold. Fungi like damp places to grow.

Fungi breaks down other plants and helps the soil grow more plants for the eco-system. Some animals eat fungi. When an animal drops fungi to its home spores fall out and after a while more fungi grow.

